FROM THE EDITOR

Welcome to another edition of Famous Faces.

Every edition has its own personality. Some celebrate remarkable achievements, others capture unforgettable moments, and occasionally we have the privilege of introducing readers to people whose stories remind us that true character is often found far from the spotlight.

This month, we journey to Epako Estate, where we meet people whose warmth, dedication and quiet strength left a lasting impression on our editorial team. Their story is one of hard work, resilience and genuine hospitality, proving that extraordinary lives are often lived away from the bright lights of the city.

Alongside our feature story, you'll discover inspiring fashion, beauty, travel and lifestyle ideas designed to add a little elegance and inspiration to everyday life.

To our loyal subscribers, thank you for continuing this journey with us. If this is your first copy of Famous Faces, welcome—we hope you'll enjoy every page as much as we enjoyed creating it.

Until next time,

Founder & Representative
Ovela Beauty

OVELA®

BEAUTY

Your Instinct.

A BEAUTY PHILOSOPHY. A PERSONAL REVOLUTION.

In a world filled with filters and expectations, Ovela Beauty was born from a simple belief: true beauty is not created – it's awakened. At the heart of this global beauty brand is Adel Walters, the woman who turned a personal vision into a movement that empowers thousands to embrace who they are, instinctively.

THE HEART OF OVELA

Ovela Beauty is more than a collection of luxurious cosmetics. It is a philosophy that celebrates self-expression, confidence and individuality. Our collections are designed for every skin tone, every age, every mood – because beauty is not one-size-fits-all. It's yours.

From the shades we create to the stories we tell, everything we do is guided by our signature belief: Your Instinct.

MEET ADEL WALTERS

As the representative of Ovela beauty, Adel Walters is the driving force behind the brand's vision and values. With a background in fashion, entrepreneurship and a lifelong passion for empowerment, Adel brings a unique understanding of what women truly need from a beauty brand.

“I didn't want to build another beauty brand,” Adel shares. “I wanted to build a space where every woman feels seen, valued and beautiful in her own way. Ovela is that space.”

Her leadership is hands-on and heartfelt. From product development to community initiatives, Adel is committed to excellence, ethics and authenticity in every detail.

THE YOUR INSTINCT MOVEMENT

The campaign Your Instinct is more than a tagline – it's a call to action. It's about listening to that inner voice that knows what feels right, what looks right, what makes you feel unstoppable. It's about freedom – to be bold or soft, minimal or dramatic, quiet or fearless. The choice is always yours.

With inclusive shades, skin-loving ingredients and high-performance formulas, Ovela Beauty helps you express every version of yourself beautifully and unapologetically.

THE FACE OF YOUR INSTINCT

EDITORIAL EPAKO

THREE VOICES. ONE PLACE. ENDLESS STORIES.

In this special editorial feature, Angel RaGuS, Peter Rorke and Michelle Lure share their personal reflections on Epako Estate—its people, its purpose and its timeless beauty.

Angel RaGuS AN EVENING TO REMEMBER

By Angel RaGuS

As an influencer, I've been fortunate to attend launches and events in some beautiful places, but every now and then a venue leaves a lasting impression. For me, that place is Epako Estate.

Hosting the launch celebration surrounded by the vast Northern Cape landscape was both exciting and inspiring. The setting had a quiet elegance that no city venue could ever recreate. From the moment our guests arrived, there was a sense that this was more than an event—it was an experience.

The fashion, the conversations, and the golden light over the estate blended together to create an evening that none of us will soon forget. Every photograph captured not only beautiful garments but also the character of a place that welcomes visitors with warmth and authenticity.

My sincere thanks go to Peter Rorke and everyone at Epako Estate for opening their gates and allowing us to celebrate in such an extraordinary setting. It was a privilege to host this special occasion, and I hope every guest left with the same appreciation for Epako that I did.

Peter Rorke THE HEART OF EPAKO

By Peter Rorke

Every farm has a story. At Epako Estate, ours has been written over generations through dedication, stewardship, and a deep respect for the land.

Cattle breeding has always been central to our vision. Building strong bloodlines requires patience, knowledge, and people who share the same commitment to excellence. Over the years, experienced Herero cattlemen from Namibia have brought invaluable knowledge and skill to our breeding programme. Their contribution has become an important part of Epako's continuing story, and we are proud of the friendships and shared purpose that have grown from working together.

For us, Epako is more than a working estate. It is a place where tradition meets innovation, where every season brings new opportunities, and where we hope every visitor experiences the peace and beauty that have inspired our family for so many years.

We were honoured to welcome the Famous Faces team and are delighted that Epako could provide the backdrop for a celebration of fashion, creativity, and South African hospitality.

Michelle Lure WHERE THE HORIZON BREATHES

By Michelle Lure

Some places are discovered with a map. Others are discovered with your heart.

Epako Estate, nestled in the wide-open landscapes near Springbok, is one of those rare places where the horizon seems endless and time gently slows its pace. The wind carries stories across the veld, the silence becomes a companion, and every sunrise reminds you that beauty often lives in simplicity.

Walking through the estate, I found myself thinking about the generations who have cared for this land before us. Their dedication is visible not only in the fields and cattle, but in the quiet pride with which Epako continues to grow. It is also reflected in the partnership between Peter Rorke and the Herero cattlemen from Namibia, whose knowledge and experience have helped shape a breeding programme built on mutual respect and shared purpose.

Readers may first recognise Epako as the breathtaking backdrop to this fashion feature, but I hope they leave these pages remembering something even greater. Behind every remarkable photograph is a remarkable place—one where people, heritage, and the land itself come together to tell a story worth preserving.

Some destinations ask only to be visited. Epako gently invites you to pause, to breathe deeply, and to remember that the most beautiful journeys are often the ones that reconnect us with the simple things.

“A place of people.
A place of purpose.
A place that stays with you.”

FAMOUS FACES | Epako Estate Series

Joan

of Epako Estate

The Matriarch with a Passion for Orchids

At the heart of Epako Estate is Joan – matriarch, homemaker, and the quiet strength that holds the estate and family together. While much of estate life happens behind the scenes, Joan's influence is felt in every corner.

A LOVE THAT BLOSSOMED

Joan's passion for orchids began many years ago, sparked by a gift from her mother-in-law. What started as a single plant has flourished into a devoted lifelong hobby.

"Orchids teach you patience," Joan says. "They don't rush. They reward you in their own time."

"Family, friends and flowers – that's what makes a house a home."

BEAUTY IN THE DETAILS

From the estate's greenhouse to sunny windowsills, orchids are everywhere. Joan tends to each one with care, knowing that every bloom is the result of attention, consistency and time.

A HOME THAT WELCOMES

Those who visit Epako Estate often remark on the warmth of its welcome. For Joan, creating a home is as natural as caring for her flowers.

A favourite Phalaenopsis in the greenhouse.

Joan's touch – every bloom is cared for with love.

Iggy:

More Than a Name on the Label

THE STORY BEHIND SOFT CARE

Soft Care Herbal Cream is a household name in many homes, trusted for its gentle, natural approach to skin care. But the woman behind the brand, Iggy, prefers a life far from the spotlight.

A BRAND BORN FROM PURPOSE

The Soft Care Herbal Cream trademark was registered over two decades ago, the result of Iggy's belief in the healing power of nature. Drawing on traditional herbal knowledge and modern science, she developed a formulation that is both effective and kind to the skin.

ROOTED IN THE LAND

Life on the farm is where Iggy is happiest. Those who know her describe her as hardworking, practical and quietly generous. She leads by example, inspiring loyalty in her team and respect in the wider community.

PRIVATE BY CHOICE

Despite building a respected brand, Iggy has never sought publicity. She believes in letting the product speak for itself. For Iggy, integrity and consistency matter more than recognition.

"I'm not interested in fame. I'm interested in doing things properly, and helping people along the way."

– IGGY

The original Soft Care Herbal Cream – trusted for generations.

Home is where the heart is – Epako Estate.

Hands-on, every day. That's the Iggy way.

Morning runs with Ella, her loyal Anatolian, are Iggy's time to think, breathe and stay grounded.

“Our heritage is not just where we come from. It is who we are becoming.”

– Selinah

A Heritage Worth Sharing

Selinah opens a small window into Herero culture through tradition, family, and one of Namibia's most cherished breads.

The Herero people are one of the largest ethnic groups in Namibia, with a rich history, a strong sense of identity and a deep connection to the land. Our story is one of resilience, dignity and belief in family.

The Herero nation is known for our colourful dress, our language – Otjiherero – and our strong traditions. The iconic otjika (dress) and okutepa (headgear) are symbols of pride and respect. Each colour and style can reflect the occasion, age and marital status, and they remind us daily that culture is beautiful.

Family is at the heart of everything we do. Elders are respected, children are nurtured, and community is everything. We look out for one another, celebrate together and carry each other through life's seasons.

Our traditions live in the stories we tell, the songs we sing, and the food we share. Recipes have been passed down from generation to generation, not written in books but kept in hearts and hands. When we cook, we remember our mothers and grandmothers, and in that memory, our heritage continues.

One such treasure is Omboroto yOtjiherero – traditional Herero bread. It is simple, nourishing and made with love. In every loaf is the warmth of home, the blessing of togetherness and the pride of who we are.

I invite you to try it, share it and enjoy it with the people you love. ♥

Selinah

FROM SELINAH'S KITCHEN ♥

Traditional Herero Bread OMBOROTO YOTJIHERERO

Omboroto is more than bread – it is a taste of home. Enjoy it warm with butter, jam or alongside a hearty meal.

INGREDIENTS

(Makes 1 large loaf)

- 4 cups (500 g) wheat flour
- 1 cup (250 ml) lukewarm water
- 1 cup (250 ml) lukewarm milk
- 2 Tbsp sugar
- 1 tsp salt
- 2 Tbsp margarine or butter, melted
- 2 ¼ tsp (1 sachet) instant yeast

METHOD

1. In a small bowl, mix the lukewarm water, sugar and yeast. Let it stand for 5–10 minutes until foamy.
2. In a large bowl, combine the flour and salt. Make a well in the centre.
3. Add the yeast mixture, lukewarm milk and melted margarine.
4. Mix to form a soft dough. Knead on a lightly floured surface for 8–10 minutes until smooth and elastic.
5. Place the dough in a lightly greased bowl, cover with a clean cloth and let it rise in a warm place for 1–1½ hours or until doubled in size.
6. Punch down the dough and shape into a round loaf.
7. Place in a greased baking pot, bread tin or cast-iron pot with a lid.
8. Cover and let it rise again for 30–45 minutes.
9. Bake in a preheated oven at 180°C for 40–50 minutes until golden brown and cooked through.
10. Remove from the pot and cool on a wire rack. Serve warm and enjoy!

Traditionally served...

Omboroto is enjoyed at family gatherings, festive occasions and Sunday meals. It brings people together.

Culture is the thread that weaves generations together.

LEGACY | LAND | PEOPLE

THE HERITAGE KEEPER

PETER RORKE
AND THE BULLS THAT SHAPE EPAKO

The braai fire crackled and popped as the last of the meat was turned. Laughter and conversation floated into the cooling evening.

Peter sat a little apart, his envelope in hand. He knew what to expect... but nothing could have prepared him for what he saw.

He opened it slowly.

The centre spread of Famous Faces lay before him.

It was him.

Peter. And the bull. Side by side.

Two pages of power, presence and partnership.

The caption read:

*"Not just a breeder:
A guardian of greatness."*

Peter exhaled, shaking his head in disbelief, a grin spreading across his face.

But there was more.

Behind the magazines was a loose photograph.

He picked it up.

A black and white image.

Peter leaning against the fence. One leg crossed over the other. Arms folded. Hat low over his eyes. Looking out across the land.

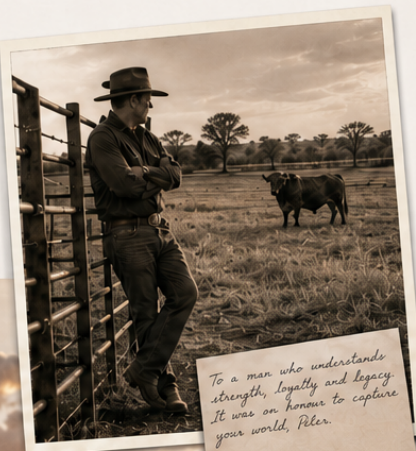

The bull stood a short distance away, broad-chested, proud, unbothered.

Lone ranger.

The kind of shot you take when you know the value of what you stand beside.

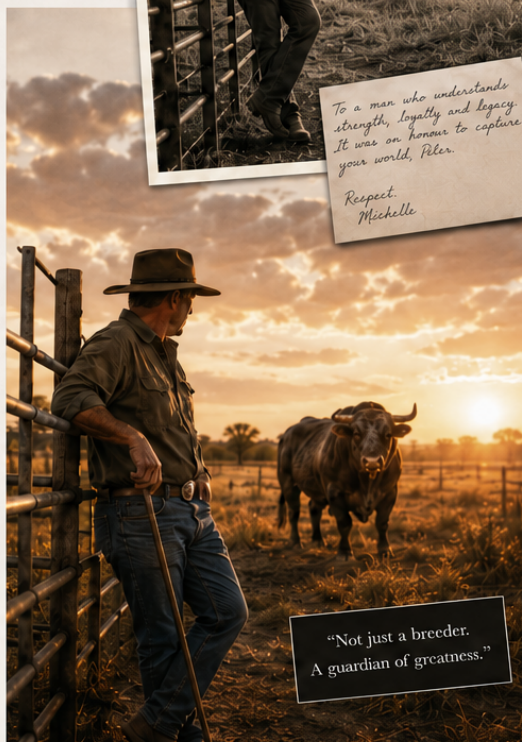

On the back, Michelle had written:

64 FAMOUS FACES JUNE 2025

To a man who understands strength, loyalty and legacy. It was an honour to capture your world, Peter.

*Respect.
Michelle*

*"Not just a breeder.
A guardian of greatness."*

As they rounded the last corner, Michelle stopped in her tracks.

In front of them stood a bull that seemed carved from granite and shadow.

He was enormous. Easily well over a ton. His shoulders were so wide they looked like the front of a bakkie. The deep, powerful chest flowed into a thick, arched neck, leading up to a broad head with a heavy, intelligent gaze. His coat was a rich charcoal grey — almost black in the shade, but silver-blue where the sun caught the sleek muscle along his back and flanks.

Every line of him spoke of strength, balance and breeding beyond ordinary.

A solid gold nose ring sat perfectly in the centre of his broad muzzle, not as decoration, but as a quiet statement: this was no ordinary bull.

Peter stood close to him, one hand resting lightly on the ring while the other lay flat against the bull's forehead. The beast stood perfectly still, breathing slow and even, completely at ease with the man beside him.

An elderly Herero man — weathered, dignified, with eyes that had seen a lifetime of cattle — stepped forward and took hold of the ring with practiced ease.

Michelle didn't hesitate. She raised her camera and captured the moment — the bull, the man, the light, the history. One photograph worth millions.

THE STORY BEHIND THE LEGEND.

INTRODUCING

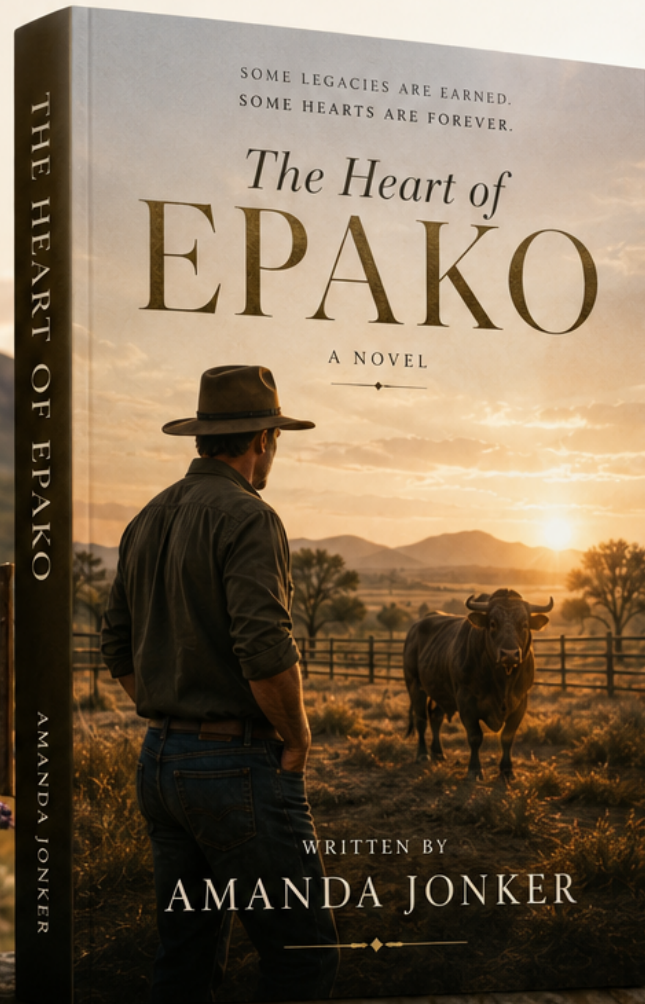

The Heart of EPAKO

A NOVEL OF LOVE, LEGACY AND THE LAND THAT SHAPES US.

*"Some inherit the land.
Others are chosen by it.
But only a few
